CLINTON A. GALBRAITH, OF HILO, APPOINTED
ASSOCIATE JUSTICE OF THE SUPREME COURT

CLINTON A. GALBRAITH of Hilo, who was appointed Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, is one of the best known lawyers of the Island of Hawaii. Mr. Galbraith was born in Bartholomew County, Ind., in 1860. After receiving a preliminary education he attended Hartsville College, graduating in 1883. He then attended the law department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. In 1884 he was admitted to the bar in Texas, and practiced in Terrell until 1889. On the day of the opening up of Oklahoma Territory, April 22, 1889, he located at Oklahoma City, where he resided until February, 1898. In 1893 he was appointed Attorney General of Oklahoma by the Governor, and having been confirmed by the Territorial Council, served four years in that capacity. On account of his health he moved to the Islands in March, 1898, and located at Hilo, forming a law partnership with Hon. G. F. Little. His experience with territorial laws has fitted him in such manner that he is probably the best posted man in the Islands on territorial legislation. In 1886 he married Miss Nova Harmon of Terrell, Texas.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL
DOLE'S NEW BOOK

"Hiwa," a Charming Story of Old Hawaii Reviewed by the Argonaut.

Deputy Attorney General Dole has written a delightful story of old Hawaii, entitled, "Hiwa." The Argonaut will review the book at length in the next few days. The following is from the San Francisco Argonaut, whose literary standard is a high one:

"The vogue of the historical novel and the general interest taken in Hawaiian affairs since the annexation of the tropical islands to the United States, make timely the publication of Edmund Dole's charming little story, 'Hiwa.' The author has had the advantage of thorough familiarity with the country which he writes, and his vivid descriptions of native customs, superstitions, and ceremonies, admirably woven into his tale give the necessary atmosphere. Mr. Dole makes no attempt to paint a large canvas. Only two of his characters, Hiwa, the goddess queen of Hawaii during legendary times, and her son, Aelani, stand out clearly, the others being but shadowy figures, although essential to the working out of the plot.

We get our first glimpse of the youthful Hiwa, feeling for life in a canoe, pursued by her uncle Aa, a fanatical high priest who is anxious to succeed her brother and consort as king. When there seems no chance for escape, she suddenly plunges into the water and disappears. The story is passed from lip to lip till she has been seized by Ukanipo, the Shark God, and she is mourned as dead. As a matter of fact, Hiwa had hidden some fear and entered a subterranean passage leading to a hidden crater, the secret of its existence having been revealed to her by her father on his death-bed. Here she gives birth to her heir. Kneeling upon the ground, she stretches forth her arms in prayer: 'Eternal Ku, thou who bearest away over gods and men as over common men, hear this my vow! I have sinned, and my life is forfeit; but the child is sinless, and if I die now he will perish. Spare me, to him till he can hurl the spear and lead the chiefs in battle for his throne, and I will offer thee such priceless sacrifice as has never yet been slain before a god, for I, the goddess-queen, with my own royal hand will shed my sacred blood to thee.' How her prayer was answered, how in this unknown crater which time had made a veritable paradise she patiently prepared him for the battle for his crown, and how at length she fulfills her vow, we leave the reader to find out for himself.

Mr. Dole is to be congratulated for having opened up a new field for fiction, and, as the legendary lore of the Hawaiian Islands is so rich, we may hope for something more pretentious from his pen.

STATUS OF JUDGES.

To Hold Court Until New Ones Take Office Here.

As the commissions of Judges Stanley and Davis expired at midnight last night, there is some question as to whether there will be any court on Friday and Saturday of this week. The Judges were appointed to act until their successors were appointed. These successors received their appointments on June 5, but it will be some days before they can be sworn in and meantime there will be an interregnum.

President Dole said yesterday that the appointment of an officer is not effective until he has received official notice, and, according to that, Judge Stanley and Judge Davis will be able to hold over until the new appointees are sworn in.

Many A Mother's Wish.

Many a mother of a peevish, restless, sickly child has wished that her little one was as strong and rugged as an Indian babe. Such mothers can make their children strong and well, if they rid the child's system of worms, which cause nine-tenths of children's troubles. Kickapoo Indian Worm Killer will do it. For centuries the Indians used it to make their babies rugged, powerful, fearless. What it has done for the child of the forest it will do for the child of the civilized—cure. That is what it has been doing for years. You can get it of your druggist for 25 cents. Be sure to get the genuine. The child's life is too precious to trifle with worthless substitutes. Hobson Drug Co., agents for Kickapoo Indian Remedies.

At a low ebb: "I repeat, gentlemen," said the orator, "the influence of the press has departed—give way, there, you fellows in front, and stop crowding the reporters. How can they do their work under such conditions?"—Philadelphia North American.
